

WHAT DOES RRS OFFER?

Recidivism Reduction Services (RRS) offers the justice involved population an opportunity to participate in free community programming. RRS provides a unique experience while under community supervision by offering incentives, engagement, and providing motivation for positive change.

- Free evidence-based programs such as cognitive behavioral intervention (CBI) and other specialized treatments.
- Community programming proven to reduce recidivism rates.
- Development of critical and positive thinking skills.
- Identification of short-term and long-term goals, and support creating strategies to achieve those goals.
- Certificates of Completion and/or Recognition upon successfully completing the program.

RECIDIVISM REDUCTION SERVICES

NC DEPARTMENT OF ADULT CORRECTION

PROGRAM COMPONENTS

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTION

Cognitive Behavioral Intervention curriculums are evidence-based, focusing on developing positive thinking skills, attitudes, and values. CBI programs are offered from 90 to 120 days.

SUBSTANCE USE SERVICES

Substance use services include regular and intensive outpatient treatment along with aftercare and recovery management. The assigned Community Supervision Officer will make a referral for a substance use assessment. Eligible clients are then referred to RRS services. Services vary and are dependent upon location.

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation services are provided to assist enrolled clients in getting to and from RRS programs. Assistance may include gas cards, bus tickets, or pick-up services.
